Hole	Par	Yards	Legend
1	4	366	A straight-away Par 4 with two fairway traps....one on each side of the landing area. A good starting hole.
2	4	333	An uphill Par 4, the green on this hole has a lot of character. It resembles an hour-glass in shape and is guarded by a giant elm tree.
3	3	110	A little Par 3 out of a shoot of native trees. The green is two-tiered with the back tier going away from the player.
4	3	135	A difficult Par 3 with water protecting the green as well as two sand traps guarding the front and back of the green. There is very little room to the back left pin position.
5	4	308	A straight-away Par 4 with a narrow landing area due to the two sand traps that guard its small green to the front and water protecting the back side.
6	3	138	The smallest green on the course, over water, but with plenty of room around the green to land the ball. This is a good Par 3.
7	5	515	The great Par 5, this hole could be on any 18-hole course in the world! The landing area is very generous with two huge sand traps on each side. This is a great golf hole.
8	3	100	A Little Par 3 over water which requires precision and accuracy to hit this green.
9	4	390	A dogleg left, this Par 4 is a challenging hole and definitely the signature hold on the course. It features the GEORGE bunker and the LINDSEY bunker. No. 9 is another hole that would be right at home on any 18-hole course.
Totals	33	2395
